KILLED BY A FALL.

WHETHER MALICIOUSLY OR ACCIDENTALLY THE CORONER'S JURY CAN'T SAY.

Fatal Consequences Attend the Visit of a New Kent Man to Richmond—A Sudden Death.

Coroner Taylor yesterday held an inquest at the almshouse upon the body of Daniel Fox (colored), who died there Tuesday night, aged forty-three years.

On Thursday, the day of the great celebration, Fox came here from the White House, in New Kent, and soon got under the influence of liquor.

Saturday morning he was picked up in the back yard of the house No. 2116 east Main street, and was carried to the almshouse, where it was found that he was paralyzed in both legs.

DECEASED'S STATEMENT. Fox stated that he went to the room of Julia Coleman at the number mentioned on Thursday (it must have been Friday) night, and that he was robbed of his money and his watch, and then he was thrown down the stairs into the yard.

He received his injuries and here he lay all night, and the next morning, when he was found, he was dead.

The post-mortem examination made by the coroner showed that death occurred from effusion of blood on the spinal cord.

That Fox had a fall was admitted by Julia Coleman, but she solemnly asserted that it was an accident.

The coroner's jury was that death was the result of a fall, but that they could not determine whether it was accidental or otherwise.

It was also ascertained that Fox was a native of New Kent, and that he was a laborer.

THE BUSINESS INTERESTS. How They May be Promoted in the Best Possible Manner.

The public meeting to be held at the Young Men's Christian Association hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, is an evidence of Richmond's progress.

Upon this occasion the business interests of Richmond will be discussed in a brief but important manner.

The speakers will be Major James H. Dooley, Colonel A. S. Buford, Mr. James H. Barton, and Mr. R. M. Quarles. All of them are experienced and successful business men.

In these addresses there will be no soliciting of efforts to raise money, but simply a discussion of the business interests of Richmond, and the ways in which they may be promoted.

The Chamber and to numerous other persons throughout the city.

It is the especial desire of the committee that a large number of ladies be present.

This movement was inaugurated upon the motion of Mr. B. F. Johnson, and it is hoped that the Chamber to hold such meetings monthly.
